Dear Singers,

Former chorus member Terry Inzerillo would like chorus members to sing Sinead O'Connor's In This Heart during the memorial service for her husband Joe, who died last week.

The service will be held on the afternoon of April 26, at the bathhouse at Golden Gardens beach.

Some of you were there when we sang In This Heart at the memorial service for chorus member Christine Howe... Terry was there too, and she would really like it if we can do the same for Joe...

Terry is waiting for a confirmation from me, and I just need to know if we have a critical mass who can participate (basses and tenors especially helpful to hear from you). If you are pretty sure you can participate let me know by this Monday (if you can). Thank you so much! I will post In This Heart for those of you who don't know it. We can learn it quickly, so I think it could be included as part of the spring semester repertory, or I can teach it before or after chorus rehearsals.

Please reply YES or NO.

Thank you all!
See you SOON

Maggie
